Scottsdale-based Greenlight Communities announced the hire of Project Coordinator Devon Rae, Assistant Project Manager Jackson Meyer and Real Estate Acquisition Project Manager Alisia Espiriti.

Greenlight Communities is based at 8135 E. Indian Bend Road in Scottsdale with projects across the Valley, according to a press release. Patricia Watts, cofounder of Greenlight Communities, said the company is fortunate to be hiring at this time and these hires will bring a lot to the company.

“Our new team members bring innovate thoughts and new ideas, as well as a passion for real estate. This combination of qualities prove to be invaluable to our industry,” she said in a prepared statement.

“With over 500 of our Cabana units ready for move-in May 1, another 619 under construction, and over 1,300 in development, we are adding attainable rental housing to communities around the Valley at a furious pace. We understand the need is there, now more than ever, and we are determined and set to provide.”

Ms. Rae has a Bachelor’s Degree in Housing and Urban Development as well as an Arizona Real Estate License. She has amassed experience in residential building and real estate.

The company is expecting Mr. Meyer, a soon-to-be graduate of the Arizona State University's Barrett Honors College, to benefit the company because of his education, industry experience and fresh perspective. He has an Arizona Real Estate License.

Ms. Espiriti also has an Arizona Real Estate License and has earned her Bachelor of Science in Engineering degree from ASU. She previously worked as a mechanical design engineer developing products in the aerospace industry but the companys says it hopes to use her analytical mind, curiosity and passion to further its goals.

Greenlight Communities aims to provide housing without the high cost. Greenlight Communities is working on several Cabana multifamily concepts throughout the Valley that offer design-forward communities with lower rental rates
